15. SCOPE OF WORK

15.1 Scope and Intent for New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology (NMIMT) Space Utilization Survey.
NMIMT is soliciting proposals for the development of a campus space utilization survey.

15.2 Originally established in 1889 as the New Mexico School of Mines, NMIMT has been in continuous operation since that time. It is one of the three initial colleges established by the New Mexico Territorial Legislature. The university was renamed in 1960 when its curriculum was expanded to place principal interest on teaching and advanced research in the basic sciences. Currently, there are 1895 students enrolled and a campus size of sixty two acres with over 1 million square feet of occupied space in 51 buildings.

15.3 Over the past 18 years, NMIMT has experienced growth in enrollment, research activities, and physical structures. Limited state resources for new facilities and the limited increases in square footage on campus have required a careful look at how the current space on campus is utilized. The main purpose for this survey is to obtain an understanding of how the current space is being utilized and provide a plan to improve the areas to operate more efficiently.

15.4 The goals of the Space Utilization Survey are to:
- Determine current utilization for each campus building and space type, and make written recommendations to optimize space use with a clear distinction between administration, academic, and research space along with those spaces that overlap.
- Recommend policies and space assignment standards to increase utilization in consultation with the campus administration.
- Identify and provide recommendations for optimizing buildings and/or departments that are underutilized.
- Create a space utilization metric and evaluation process that can be replicated by the campus going forward. This should provide the means for regular campus reports and should utilize space management software that is most appropriate for the mission and size of NMIMT.

The selected consultant will be required to produce written, graphic, and digital documentation that clearly presents the utilization data on a building-by-building basis.

16. SCOPE OF REQUIRED SERVICES

16.1 Mobilization / Data Collection: Provide services that are necessary to complete the identified scope of services including: site visits, stakeholder meetings and interviews, and other applicable techniques. Define what info will be required from NMIMT in order to facilitate the survey. Examples include class schedules, building and room occupancy, etc.

16.2 Define Utilization Criteria: Define utilization metrics that can be updated by the campus for ongoing analysis. To assist in defining metrics, provide examples of how other organizations efficiently address their space requirements and how these can be applied to the campus. Examples should come from primarily higher education although other relevant examples can be considered. Provide recommendations for space utilization software that can be used by NMIMT to keep space survey updated.

16.3 Milestone Review: A milestone review meeting will occur with NMIMT administration to evaluate the utilization criteria, process, and progress. The milestone review will occur at approximately the 30% point in the survey process. The milestone review will identify any proposed revisions to the process and metrics for consideration.

16.4 Complete Survey: Once the milestone review has been approved, the utilization survey will be completed on the remaining buildings based on campus priorities and stakeholder availability.

16.5 Identify Strategic Adjacencies: Develop a list of potential departments and/or groups that can be relocated if necessary to increase academic space utilization.
16.6 Produce Final Report: Prepare the final report to include current space utilization by building and discipline, recommendations for space policies and standards to increase utilization including any strategic adjacencies, along with selected space utilization software populated with NMIMT data.

16.7 Exhibit 1 lists all buildings. Campus map is available at: https://www.nmt.edu/campusmap.php
