

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR/ MANAGEMENT

New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology (NMT) invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in business management with a preferred start in fall 2024 (spring 2025 acceptable). While we will consider excellent candidates in any fields of business management, preferences may be given to organizational behavior, corporate governance, marketing, and business economics and policy. Required qualifications include [1] A Ph.D. in business administration, management, or a related discipline; [2] ability to establish a research program supporting graduate and undergraduate students at a small institution and engaging local and regional stakeholders; [3] ability to teach courses in areas related to business management and engineering management; [4] ability to support student success by engaging and mentoring students from diverse academic, socioeconomic, and cultural backgrounds.

The position will carry responsibilities in research (40%), teaching (40%, two courses per semester), and services (20%). The Business and Technology Management (BTM) program at NMT offers bachelor's degrees in management, business management, and management of technology and graduate degrees in engineering management (including both professional and research tracks). Our engineering management program is nationally ranked for its quality of education and accessibility.

The position will remain open until filled. For best consideration, please apply by February 19, 2024. Candidates must submit applications electronically by attaching a single PDF document incorporating: a cover letter highlighting expertise and experience most suited to the position (2-page limit), curriculum vitae (CV), a research statement (2-page limit), a statement of teaching philosophy and interests (2-page limit), and a list of three to five professional references. Materials should be emailed to nmtjobapps@npe.nmt.edu and copy to Dr. Clinton Jeffery (clinton.jeffery@nmt.edu) and Dr. Haoying Wang (haoying.wang@nmt.edu), with "BTM-Assistant Professor-2024" in the subject line. Inquiries about the position and search status should go to haoying.wang@nmt.edu.

NMT, a STEM-focused public research institution, continues to top college rankings as New Mexico's Best College, College with the Best Academics, Best Value College, and New Mexico's Top Public University. NMT is a federally designated Hispanic Serving Institution, and roughly 1/3 of our faculty and majors are female. NMT was ranked the #4 Best Hispanic-Serving University in America. NMT provides excellent benefits (health, vision, dental), tuition waiver, and generous retirement plans. NMT also supports work-life balance via extended tenure clocks for growing families and on-campus childcare is available.

NMT is committed to creating a community in which a diverse population can learn, live, and work in an atmosphere of tolerance, civility, and respect for the rights and sensibilities of each individual. All those interested in the position are encouraged to apply, including women, individuals from marginalized groups, and persons with disabilities.

Socorro, founded in 1598, 75 miles south of Albuquerque, sits in the scenic Rio Grande River Valley of central New Mexico. It provides a low cost of living and many amenities for a town of its size. The ABQ International Airport is just an hour away. Nearby mountains and desert canyons provide opportunities for excellent hiking, climbing, and mountain biking. The Bosque del Apache National Wildlife Refuge, located just south of Socorro along a major north-south flyway, offers some of the best birding in the USA.