b) GSA President, Mr. Henry Prager. Mr. Prager reported the GSA has approved two travel grants for $1,000 (out of $5,000 available). He said the Department of Homeland Security has proposed new rules for international travel students, changing visa rules to require a minimum stay. The GSA has had two meetings to discuss events. Trivia night, murder mystery night, and a grad student research symposium are scheduled – all will be online via Zoom. Mr. Prager said costs have gone down, so the GSA is considering refunding fees to grad students. He also said graduate students are now serving on the Faculty Senate committee as volunteers.

c) Office of Student Life, AVP Dr. Peter Phaiah. AVP Phaiah reported that the search is under way for the next student regent. The new student regent will replace Regent Espinoza, whose term ends on December 31, 2020. AVP Phaiah presented a COVID report process to vet all in-person events. NMT now has an official mechanism for screening and vetting events. NMT collaborated with the N.M. Department of Health to host drive-through screening for the NMT community and local residents with about 70 people tested. AVP Phaiah updated the Board on ongoing efforts to adopt Title IX updates. His office is organizing Debate Watch events for the election season. A voter registration was held October 1 and 2 and AVP Phaiah provided a recap of events on campus for the 100th anniversary of the suffrage movement. He summarized efforts on campus to address mental health issues specifically related to the pandemic. AVP Phaiah said 461 students have been tested, and NMT is working with the Dept. of Health to get weekly numbers about testing.

d) Office of Academic Affairs, VP Dr. Doug Wells. VP Wells reported that the student credit hours are down 1 percent; student headcount is down about 8 percent, with the reduction almost entirely in “special students” category. New students are up 10 percent, and new grad students are up 60 percent. Retention, persistence, and the six-year graduation rate are at all-time highs, VP Wells reported. Regent Gonzales pointed out that NMT has achieved many of the metrics set out several years ago. He said he’s happy with results and gave congratulations to the NMT team.

e) Office of Administration and Finance, VP Dr. Cleve McDaniel. VP McDaniel said tuition revenue is within $53,000 of budget for FY21. He said Jones Hall work is moving forward on schedule. The Deju House is about to begin site work for a 10-month construction project. Brown Hall renovations have seen floorplans completed, but the project is on hiatus for a year. He said the parking lot on College Avenue has been paved and lined, as well as lit. The Burton house, which was purchased by the NMT Foundation, is on the corner of Leroy and College. VP McDaniel said NMT will survey the house and determine the level of renovations that are needed. He said NMT is planning on two tours of the Bursum House, one for renovations and another for estimates.

f) Office of Research, VP Dr. Van Romero. VP Romero said NMT is now doing contact tracing manually, which is feasible because of NMT’s size. He said NMT is trying to implement an automated system via a cell phone app. NMSU has developed an app, which NMT is adapting. He hopes to have the app in beta test by Oct. 23. VP Romero said the effort to bring rapid testing to NMT is ongoing. He said UTEP has started rapid testing, which is advantageous because of the 10-hour turnaround, but is disadvantageous because of 10 percent false negative rate.

g) Office of Innovation Commercialization, Director Dr. Peter Anselmo. President Wells announced that Director Anselmo has submitted retirement plans, effective at the end of the fall 2020 semester. Director Anselmo said he’s pushing ahead with commercialization projects, including those previously presented to the board that are going on in cooperation with NMSU, and with Dr. Lorie Liebrock and the Center for Excellence in Cybersecurity.

She reported on two parallel water projects. The Bureau has established an agreement with Navajo Technical University and a new agreement with Navajo Nation to study wells on the reservation. Director Dunbar also said that, in addition to students, NMT should consider employees with addressing mental health issues on campus.

i) PRRC, Director Dr. Bob Balch. Director Balch said the funding for the Carbon Safe 3 project with Enchant officially started October 1 with $11 million for the first year of funding. He said the PRRC’s fiber membrane system is close to having a pilot project in place with a Native American pueblo. The PRRC also continues to commercialize the same fiber membrane water purification system with the oil-and-gas industry in New Mexico. The press release about the COVID nasal spray was aired by the Albuquerque TV news affiliates and many other outlets. He said VP Romero was featured on Nightline to talk about the Beirut explosion. He said the New York Times is following NMT’s COVID-19 Dashboard online. Director Lepre said the Office of Marketing and Communications is heavily invested in recruitment efforts, and each staff member is contributing to the effort.

m) Office of Government Affairs, Director Dave Manzano. Director Manzano said the state revenue outlook is uncertain, but it looks bright. He said FY22 revenue outlooks range from $7.6 billion to $7.8 billion, demonstrating the level of uncertainty. He said N.M. lost about 100,000 jobs in April 2020, and only one-third of them had been recovered by August. He said there are only 45 petroleum rigs active in New Mexico, compared to more than 100 at this time last year.

n) Office of the President, Dr. Stephen Wells. President Wells said the new daily screening form online is live, and students have responded well. Prizes are being offered to those who participate the most. He said NMT is strongly encouraging students to be smart during 49ers, especially to those who choose to leave Socorro. President Wells announced that the Commencement Speaker Committee is in place and has selected a speaker from three candidates. Dr. Jill Tarter, known for her work on SETI, was selected as the commencement speaker. Tarter was also the inspiration for Jody Foster’s character in the movie “Contact.” President Wells said the event at Navajo Technical University was a great success.
