New Mexico Tech Invites Applications for Assistant Teaching Professor of Mathematics

Position Description: New Mexico Tech (NMT) invites applications for a full-time Assistant Teaching Professor of Mathematics to begin on August 10, 2026. This is a full-time, permanent, non tenure-track teaching position. Experience in teaching college mathematics is required. Excellent communication skills are required. A Master's in Mathematics is required. A PhD in Mathematics is preferred.

The successful applicant will teach undergraduate mathematics courses from algebra through calculus. Courses will be taught in-person on the NMT campus. They will also coordinate courses and supervise graduate student teaching assistants. The teaching load is 12 credit hours per semester. Additional duties include service to the department, institution, and/or profession.

Department and College Description: New Mexico Tech is a nationally-recognized STEM research university that serves a diverse region, offering degrees through the PhD. The mathematics department offers BS, MS, and PhD degrees in mathematics. For more information about New Mexico Tech and the department, visit https://www.nmt.edu/

Application Information: Applications should be submitted online through https://www.mathjobs.org. Applications should include a CV, statement of teaching philosophy, teaching evaluations, and contact information for three references. For full consideration, please apply by June 8, 2026. Review will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries should be directed to the department chair, Brian.Borchers@nmt.edu.

Equal Employment Opportunity: NMT is committed to creating a community in which a diverse population can learn, live, and work in an atmosphere of tolerance, civility and respect for the rights and sensibilities of each individual. NMT is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Benefits: Excellent benefits (health, vision, dental), tuition fee waiver, and a generous retirement plan.

Regional Attractions: New Mexico Tech is located in Socorro, in the scenic Rio Grande River Valley of central New Mexico, 75 miles south of Albuquerque with its many attractions, and 139 miles south of Santa Fe. Nearby mountains and desert canyons provide opportunities for excellent hiking, climbing, and mountain biking. The Bosque del Apache National Wildlife Refuge, located just south of Socorro along a major north-south flyway, offers some of the best birding in the USA.