Hello There!

Dear Colleagues,

I am thrilled to join the Tech community today and look forward to collaborating with you in the coming days and months.

In the short term, I plan to meet with as many of you as possible. I aim to gain a deeper understanding of your needs and objectives and to familiarize myself with the culture of our campus communities. I am committed to being a transparent and honest leader, and I expect the same openness from each of you.

For those who were able to attend my open forum, you might remember my emphasis on service. My leadership team and I are here to serve our students, faculty, and staff. The fundamental mission of any university, particularly public higher education, is to educate and empower the community it serves. To this end, I welcome everyone's contribution in creating a welcoming and engaging environment.

I am open to your ideas, comments, and constructive feedback. Understanding your successes and the challenges you face will enable my team and me to serve our campus better.

Warm regards,
Mahyar
